

Word Study for --- DISCHARGE

A close-up photograph of several vibrant red flowers, likely gerberas, with their petals fully bloomed. The flowers are set against a soft, out-of-focus background of more red petals and green foliage. The lighting is bright, highlighting the texture and color of the petals.

Ecclesiastics 08:08 There is no man that hath power over the spirit to retain the spirit; neither hath he power in the day of death: and there is no discharge in that war; neither shall wickedness deliver those that are given to it.
