

A close-up photograph of a brick kiln. The kiln is made of dark, textured bricks, some of which are wet and glistening with water. Several vibrant red flowers, possibly hibiscus, are placed on top of the bricks. In the background, there are green ferns and other foliage. The text is overlaid on the image in a white, serif font.

Jeremiah 43:09 Take great stones in thine hand, and hide them in the clay in the brickkiln, which is at the entry of Pharaoh's house in Tahpanhes, in the sight of the men of Judah;
