

A close-up photograph of several leaves with a mix of dark red, purple, and greyish-green hues. The leaves have a prominent vein structure and are covered with small, clear water droplets, giving them a glistening appearance. The background is softly blurred, focusing attention on the texture and color of the leaves in the foreground.

Ephesians 02:03 Among whom also we all had our conversation in times past in the lusts of our flesh, fulfilling the desires of the flesh and of the mind; and were by nature the children of wrath, even as others.