

Matthew 07:23 And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity.

A photograph of a beach scene. In the foreground, there is a large, smooth sand dune. The middle ground shows a sandy beach with several pieces of weathered driftwood scattered across it. Some driftwood is partially buried in the sand. In the background, there are more sand dunes and some sparse, green grasses growing in the sand. The overall lighting is soft, suggesting an overcast day or late afternoon.